¹ All programs culminate in a bachelor's degree except Accounting, Electronics & Computer Technology, Health Information Technology, Network Systems Administration, and Web Graphic Design, which culminate in an associate degree.

² Includes base salary and any additional taxable compensation. Graduates who are employed in education-related positions prior to graduation generally earn more than graduates who accept new employment after graduation. All compensation is reported in U.S. dollars.

⁴ Excludes graduates who actively pursued employment for less than 180 days and did not become employed.

⁵ Prior to January 2010, this program was called Business Operations.

NOTES: Completion statistics are available upon request. Program availability varies by location. Statistics for graduates of the Clinical Laboratory Science and Management programs will be available approximately six months after the first classes graduate. Information presented is based on graduate-provided data.
